Renewable Power Solutions Introduces 15 Year Warranty on Workmanship

SAN JOSE, Calif. -- Power Solutions, leading provider of solar photovoltaic integration services for residential, commercial, non-profit and governmental needs, introduces their new 15 year warranty on workmanship.

After surpassing their 10 year mark in the solar industry, Power Solutions has improved their way of doing business. "We strive to be a leader in the growing solar industry. After assessing our body of work we have decided to improve our 10 year workmanship warranty by extending it to 15 years. We have the confidence in our workmanship to surpass all expectations and we hope that the rest of the solar industry will follow our lead," said Jose Radzinsky, CEO of Power Solutions.

Power Solutions is the first to offer a 15 year warranty on workmanship. The company was a pioneer in offering the 10 year workmanship warranty back in 2004 and it wasn't until Jan. 2007 that the California Solar Initiative mandated all integrators to offer a 10 year warranty on workmanship. Power Solutions is confident their 15 year workmanship warranty will establish new expectations and set new precedents for the solar industry.
